At Cornell

Cornell Statistical Consulting Unit Workshops

CSCU offers free workshops on statistical methods frequently used by Cornell researchers. The emphasis is on the application of statistical methods, rather than statistical theory. Topics this semester include meta-analysis, logistic regression, causal inference, survival analysis, and latent profile analysis. Learn more and register.

Cornell's Scientific Computing Training Series

Webinar topics include AI and Machine Learning, Generative AI, Python, and R. Sponsored by the Center for Advanced Computing (CAC) and Weill Cornell Medicine's Scientific Computing Unit, ITS, and Clinical and Translational Science Center. Registration is open now.

Cornell Center for Social Sciences Workshops

CCSS offers workshops on topics including data processing, replication, machine learning, and qualitative analysis. Learn more and register.

Data & Donuts Discussion Series

Spring Semester 2024 | Thursdays 9:30-10:30am | Mann Library Rm 100

Become a better data steward with Cornell Data Services! Join us for a weekly informal discussion series to work our way through the data lifecycle over donuts. From the planning stages of a research project, through closeout and data archiving, we will discuss best practices and point to resources on campus and beyond. There will be time for open conversation, questions, skill-building, and troubleshooting. Learn more and register.

Cornell Summer Graduate Fellowship in Digital Humanities Call for Applications

June 3 – July 10; Express interest by March 1, Apply by March 25.

The Summer DH program supports a small interdisciplinary cohort of Cornell Ph.D. students who together investigate approaches to digital scholarship through collaborative workshops, readings, discussion, and co-work on independent projects.

Beyond Cornell

DataWorks! Salon: How to Make Your Research Data Accessible, Not Just Available

Are you preparing your data for submission to a repository or a journal? Join us on February 14 at 1 pm (ET) to learn best practices for preparing datasets and making them accessible to facilitate reuse. Learn how to ensure your dataset is published rapidly and smoothly by avoiding some of the most common reasons data are sent back to authors and why documentation is so important. This salon is hosted by FASEB DataWorks! and Dryad with Laura Bowman and Bryan Gee of Dryad as speakers. Register and learn more

Publishing in the Age of Open Science: National Academies workshop for researchers, institutions and publishers in the Chemical Sciences, Feb 21-22.

The workshop will feature expert panels on social, financial, scientific, and research impacts of transitioning into open access and FAIR data practices and review available resources. Virtual or in-person (DC), register and learn more.

ICPSR Love Data Week Events

ICPSR-specific Love Data Week activities include webinars on population data, health data, COVID data, social media data, and early child care data, plus a look at a new metadata resource at ICPSR. Check these events out on the ICPSR-specific #LoveData24 page.
